ZBA Upholds Cease and Desist Order on Majestic Trucking

By Edward J. Cooney

MILLBURY - The Millbury Zoning Board of Appeals held three public hearings at their May 23 weekly meeting. One was on an appeal of a cease and desist order executed by Zoning Administrator Rene Morin. Present were ZBA Chairman Richard Valentino and board members Walter Bernier, William Moore, William Martin, and Alternate Cheryl Hennigan.

Dolan Road

The first public hearing was on the petition of Dennis and Suzanne Heroux of Dolan Road to construct a 2 and 1/2 story bay garage with an in-law apartment above. Mrs. Heroux said she and her husband were requesting the variance to allow her mother and father to live in the apartment. Dennis Heroux said the present deck would be closed in as a breezeway to the proposed garage. He also referred to a report from a certified engineer who checked the present septic system and said it was adequate. The proposed addition is 32x28.

No abutters were present to oppose the request. The variance was granted on a 4-0-1 vote. Board member Bill Martin abstained because he is an abutter. Valentino told the petitioners that construction cannot begin until 20 days after the variance has been filed with the Town Clerk. Any abutter has 20 days from that filing to appeal the ZBA's decision in Superior Court.

19 North Main Street

Martin read a letter from the Planning Board requesting that the ZBA reconsider its Order of Conditions for a flat roof at 19 North Main Street to allow for a roof with a slight pitch. Valentino said they would have to have a formal request from the building's owner in order to make a change.

Chronicle Publishing

At 7:30, at public hearing was held on a request for a variance from Chronicle Publishing, 20 Franklin Street, Worcester, owners of the Telegram & Gazette, to construct a 70,000 square foot addition to an existing building at 9 Latti Farm Road in the Millbury Industrial Park. The building will house a newspaper production facility, including a press room, assembly area, and distribution center.

Attorney Todd Rodman, representing the Chronicle, explained that town meeting had approved a zone change to allow the construction of the press room at a height of 55' which is higher than the previous zoning regulation with a 40' limit. He said the reason for the request for a variance at this time rather than waiting for the approval of the zone change by the Attorney General, was due to the construction schedule.. He also said there would be a minor change on the legal description of the property area involved, citing the change as one that would include not only lots 9 and 10 but would also spill over into lot 11. The board voted unanimously to grant the variance.

Wales Street

The board heard a petition submitted by Attorney Peter Keenan on behalf of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Fantasia . On February 7, Building Inspector Rene Morin issued a cease and desist order to Majestic Interstate Carriers and issued a letter to both Mr. and Mrs. Fantasia to have Majestic vacate Fantasia's property on Wales Street. The petitioners were seeking an appeal of the order. According to Valentino, Majestic has continued doing business at the Wales Street location despite the cease and desist order.

Prior to the start of the hearing, a letter was read from Town Counsel Cheryl Blume which stated that the petition for appeal was not timely since it was submitted 42 days after Morin's order of February 7, and therefore was not within the 30 days required under Mass. General Laws. The letter noted that the appeal was dated April 20, 1990 and as a result, the ZBA was not required to act on Fantasia's appeal.

Town Planner Dave Hulseberg pointed out that Fantasia could file for another variance and seek a special permit in accordance with the bylaws. "The applicant should not be heard tonight," Hulseberg said. "The building inspector's decision should remain in effect."

Keenan said that although the appeal was not submitted in a timely manner, it could still be heard.

Moore made a motion to hear the appeal; Martin seconded the motion. Valentino said he was not in favor of hearing the appeal, and suggested that the applicant resubmit an application for a special permit.

"That's all well and good," Moore said, "but the cease and desist order is costing money. I believe he is operating legally there. Why make him suffer and wait for a hearing?"

Building Inspector Rene Morin spoke up and said, "He is still operating even though he has a cease and desist order. He is going against the violation now, regardless."

"Personally I don't think he is in violation," Moore said. "I don't think we should delay it."

Valentino called for a vote. The vote showed three in favor of hearing the appeal (Moore, Martin, Hennigan), one against (Valentino), and one abstention (Walter Bernier).

Keenan thanked the board for the opportunity to present the appeal. He then explained that Majestic Interstate Carriers has been operating since September, 1989. "In August of '89, this board awarded a variance to Mr. and Mrs. Fantasia for the use of an existing structure on Wales Street for an Industrial A-I use. Majestic moved into the building and started operating. Subsequently," Keenan continued, "in February, 1990 Building Inspector Rene Morin issued a cease and desist order to Majestic Interstate Carriers and issued a letter to both Mr. and Mrs. Fantasia to have Majestic vacate the property on Wales Street. Mr. Morin's opinion was at that time that the operation of Majestic Carriers was that of a freight or transportation terminal. You can see under Article 2 of the zoning bylaw that if a freight or transportation terminal is operating in an Industrial A Zone it must not operate 800 feet within 2 or more dwellings."

Keenan said there is no question that the building Majestic Interstate Carriers is operating in is within 200 feet of two or more dwellings. "Some of the neighbors are here tonight and they have had problems with the operation on Wales Street from the very beginning. I think in a large part that is the reason the cease and desist order was filed by Mr. Morin, in good faith," Keenan said. "The opinion of Mr. Morin is wrong. His interpretation of the bylaw is incorrect. I submit that the town of Millbury's bylaw has no definition of a freight or transportation terminal. There is another section of the bylaw, 25.13 that allows the operation of a warehousing operation and wholesale distribution not involved in bulk storage. The thrust of our argument tonight is that Majestic is operating as that of a wholesale distribution operation not involved in bulk storage."

Appointments Spark Debate in Sutton

By Alec Belisle

SUTTON - Chairwoman Mary K. Connor called the May 22 meeting of the Board of Selectmen to order at 8:00 with all members present. The board returned to the process of appointing members to serve on the Zoning Board of Appeals (ZBA) and the Planning Board which they began at their May 15 meeting.

Zoning Board of Appeals

Town Administrator Dexter reported that Paul Hamm, who presently serves as an associate member on the ZBA, was unaware that interviews were being held last week and asked that he be considered for the permanent seat on the ZBA.

At the selectmen's last meeting, Don Allison, Timothy Kerins, Ann Achorn, Marilyn Belletti, and James Chechile were interviewed for one of the two ZBA positions to be filled. (One seat went to William Pepka who was filling out an unexpired term of Harry Smith who resigned.)

Selectman Wally Johnson said, "I think it's kind of proper procedure anyway, if possible, that an alternate move up to take a position. That's just my opinion, but I firmly believe that."

Chizy echoed Johnson's sentiments. "I agree 100%. I think this is the process that we've always had, and we should do. He's (Hamm) an alternate member, and this is the way it should be handled."

"As far as I'm concerned," Johnson said, "an alternate member of any board, if he's qualified to be an alternate - the reason

- Letter writers are limited to one letter per month.

Commends Task Force

To the Editor:

I would like to publicly commend the Sutton Task Force for performing an outstanding job. It appears that most residents do not know the scope of what the Force has done and are doing, and for no other reason than for our benefit. Apparently, this is a thankless task so I wanted to let the Force know how much I truly appreciate their unbiased, good hard work (with no remuneration). I feel very fortunate to be a Sutton resident and have such a body as the Force looking out for my health and best interests.

Disagrees with Column

To the Editor:

The column appearing in the May 17, 1990 issue of your newspaper entitled "Another Point of View" written by Lawrence Moore, contains some erroneous statements which need to be addressed.

In his article about the ban and moratorium of power plants, Mr. Moore states that "the timing of the meeting coincided with the receipt of tax bills, which included an increase of about 25%." The Fiscal 1990 tax bills to which Mr. Moore refers were mailed on November 1, 1989. The second half payment was due on May 1st; those bills were duplicates of the bill received in November. People were well aware of the increase long before Town meeting. The due date for tax bills is set by State Statute and the timing of Town Meeting by the newly adopted Charter, therefore eliminating any possibility of a well timed effort to make a point about taxes.

Everyone knows that the Commonwealth has been in a fiscal crisis for quite some time and that crisis has affected cities and towns alike. However, during all budget negotiations for fiscal 1991, no "scare talk" about massive layoffs or cuts in services occurred. On the contrary, the Town Administrator advised a more "cautiously optimistic" outlook and level funded services.

Regarding the statement that one-third of the Task Force did not agree that questions posed were answered to their satisfaction by J. Makowski, the point should also be made that two-thirds of that same Task Force did agree. At a meeting of the Task Force held on Sunday, May 6 to finalize the statement distributed at Town Meeting, a Task Force member who is also an active member of the STOP group criticized, disputed, and generally complained about everything that the Task Force had accomplished to that date even though that same member had ample opportunity to participate in each meeting and give his input. He then insisted that a vote be taken regarding the questions posed and answers received. Ten of fifteen members present voted that they were satisfied.

Mr. Moore further states that Sutton's Town Engineer should have been called upon to give his overview of the Task Force work. The Town Engineer is a member of the Task Force and has had every opportunity to participate in the work of the Task Force to date. While he was not present at the May 6th meeting, he was given a copy of the statement distributed prior to the meeting. The Task Force contains other people with technical expertise in this field above that of the Town Engineer, however, the Task Force in general has always felt that each member has his or her own contributions to make to the task at hand and each person's contribution is important.

The issue of property values in the vicinity of a power plant is a very complicated issue that involves many considerations. While Mr. Moore states that he does not know if the $100,000 figure for loss of tax revenue is correct, he nonetheless uses that figure in this article. Mr. Moore has never contacted the Sutton Assessors office for an opinion; the $100,000 figure comes directly from the STOP group.

Mr. Moore has been a member of many groups and committees in the Town of Sutton and knows how much time and effort is required when one decides to "serve his community." Most of the members of the Task Force are citizens who, for whatever reason, have answered the call to serve their community and have already given many hours of service since the first meeting held only a few months ago. I am especially disturbed when citizens such as Mr. Moore and some of the members of our current Board of Selectmen question the work done by this Task Force when neither Mr. Moore nor any of those same members of the Board of Selectmen have ever attended a Task Force meeting. If an issue is important to you, attend the meetings. If you don't attend the meetings and don't become acquainted with the work completed, don't take "potshots" at a public meeting or in the newspaper. The Town of Sutton deserves better.

Questions Former Selectman's Presence on Task Force

To the Editor:

What's next from the proponents of the power plant in Sutton? Already they would have you believe that 43% of the vote is greater than 57% of the vote, that power plants give off no pollution, and that power plants belong in every neighborhood in Sutton. Now they want the voting dictates of a town election nullified.

Should an elected official in the Town of Sutton maintain the position of an elected official, even when they are no longer elected? Of course! As long as a defeated candidate maintains the objectives of pro-power plant people, then by all means keep him in office. It's obviously clear to everyone, except pro-power plant people, that the power plant issue was a decisive one in determining the voting direction of the people on April 28. When elections and town votes go against the wishes of these pro-power plant political insiders, those election results should be ignored?

The task force was created by a vote of the selectmen's board. As is very clear now, it was created and was the brainchild of selectwoman Connor. Members of appropriate boards in town were appointed to this committee. "All issues" regarding power plant siting and power plant zoning were supposed to be addressed by this committee.

A defeated selectman's candidate is simply a private citizen, and a member should not represent selectmen on the task force, in much the same way that an average citizen would be appointed to represent the planning board for instance. Except for those minority of people in Sutton who want power plants, this is a very common and reasonable request. Maybe at the next Task Force meeting with Makowski the pro-power plant people can ask Makowski who they want to be selectman.

Would George Bush send Michael Dukakis to represent him at a summit with Mikael Gorbachev? Hardly! Mr. Licopoli should realize that he is a private citizen now and that his involvement with the task force cannot involve the representation of the Selectmen's board.

The whole power plant issue from the very start has seen a selected few and related town officials trying to supercede the wishes of the majority of Sutton voters in siting this power plant. Maintaining a former elected official as chairman of the task force follows directly in line with this philosophy and these tactics.

The original makeup and the representative basis for the construction of the task force requires that to be fair, the chairperson of the task force should be a member of the board of selectmen.

The deadline for ALL submissions to the Millbury-Sutton Chronicle is noon on Saturday of the week prior to publication.

OBITUARIES

Clara Dykstra
Sutton's Oldest Resident

SUTTON - Clara (Vierstra) Dykstra, 99, of Central Turnpike, died May 24 in The Medical Center of Central Massachusetts - Hahnemann in Worcester after a short illness.

Her husband, Ralph Dykstra, died in 1955. She leaves two sons, Matthew Dykstra of Whitinsville and George Dykstra of North Fort Myers, Florida; a daughter, Dorothy Quillen of Sutton; a sister, Mary Dykstra of Worcester; 12 grandchildren and 32 great-grandchildren.

Mrs. Dykstra was born in the Netherlands, daughter of Meinte and Antje (Boersma) Vierstra. She came to the United States with her family in 1908. She lived in Pennsylvania, where she was married in 1911, assisted her husband with the family farm, and came to Sutton with him in 1944 to farm.

In December, the town of Sutton recognized Mrs. Dykstra as the oldest resident of the community and presented her with the Boston Post "oldest citizen" gold-tipped cane. Many years ago the former Boston Post gave a gold-tipped cane to each of the cities and towns in the commonwealth to honor their oldest residents. Sutton has continued that tradition.

On November 15, Mrs. Dykstra was awarded the honor of being the oldest walker in the Tri-Valley Elder Services Inc. nutrition program, Walk-a-Thon, Miles for Meals U.S.A., held at Auburn Mall, which raised money for home-delivered meals for frail homebound elders. She was one of 167 elders who walked that day and raised $7,000.

She also held the honor of being the oldest member of the First Congregational Church of Sutton and continued to be active to the end of her life. She was a member of the church's Women's Fellowship, the former Sutton Young Women's CLub, of which she served as treasurer for many years. She was also a member of its Ladies Benevolent Society and the former Harmony Class of the church.

The funeral was held in First Congregational Church. Burial was in Riverdale Cemetery, Providence Road, Northbridge. Memorial contributions may be made to First Congregational Church, Boston Road, Sutton, MA 01590.

Dorothy A. (Dykstra) Quillen

SUTTON - Dorothy A. (Dykstra) Quillen, 70, of Central Turnpike died May 28 in St. Vincent Hospital, Worcester.

Her husband, Everett G. Quillen, died in 1987. She leaves two sons, Raymond E. Quillen of Springhill, Fla., and Albert E. Quillen of Sutton; three daughters, Clara Jean Machonis of Sutton, Nancy Parker of West Germany and Elaine Marin of West Upton; two brothers, Matthew Dykstra of Whitinsville and George Dykstra of North Fort Myers, Fla.; and 16 grandchildren.

She was born in Washington, Pa., the daughter of Ralph and Clara (Vierstra) Dykstra. She lived in Worcester prior to moving to Sutton in 1986. She was a graduate of Trinity High School in Washington, Pa.

Mrs. Quillen was a housekeeper at Becker Junior College in Worcester for 22 years, prior to her retirement in 1988. For several years Mr. and Mrs. Quillen were resident directors at Maple Hall at the college.

She was a longtime member of the Pleasant Street Baptist Church in Worcester and its Twin "L" Circle and Joy Group. She was a member of the Women's Fellowship of the First Congregational Church of Sutton, the Golden Agers of Sutton, and the Greendale Women's Bowling League of Worcester.

Funeral services were held today in Burna Funeral Home, Whitinsville. Burial followed in Worcester County Memorial Park in Paxton. Memorial donations may be sent to either the Pleasant Street Baptist Church, 6 Ashland St. Worcester, MA 01609 or First Congregational Church, in care of The Hearing Loop, Boston Road, Sutton, MA 01590.

Millbury Selectmen's Meeting Digest

NO Turns on Red at Main/Elm Intersection

By Edward J. Cooney

MILLBURY - The May 23 Selectmen's Meeting was called to order at 7:00 p.m. with all members present.

Street Lights

Administrative Assistant Earl Chase said he received a letter from Thomas S. Leue, Energy Consultant at Homestead Inc., of Williamsburg, Massachusetts, concerning a proposal for renovating street lighting in Millbury. According to the letter, the proposal could "...cut the annual cost of operating most of the streetlighting by more than 50%, improve the quality and the amount of lighting on the streets by 10 to 20%, and this will not cost the Town any money out of pocket."

Chase said he discussed the proposal with Massachusetts Electric as a viable alternative to the present system. He also said the town would end up owning the lights after a period of five years. "It could be a money saver," he said, "but there may be problems in the administration of the proposal that are not ideal."

HVAC System

Chase said the engineer who did design work for the HVAC (heating/ventilating/air conditioning) system at the Town Hall said that drawings for that project are available to the town for $1200. Chase recommended the purchase.

Cristo asked if the original contract called for the town to get the drawings. Chase replied that it was an option the town didn't take advantage of at the time. No action was taken by the board.

Dorothy Pond

The board approved the bid of Aquatic Control Technologies for chemical treatment and de-weeding at Dorothy Pond. The treatment for algae will cost $11 per acre; de-weeding will cost $172 per acre. Copper sulfate will be used to treat the algae. The board approved Chase's recommendation to award the bid, not to exceed $10,000.

Main/Elm Intersection

Police Chief Ron Stokowski and Safety Officer Ron Richards reviewed recommendations submitted by Richards several weeks ago for the Main/Elm intersection. Richards had proposed that all four corners be posted with "No Right Turn On Red" signs. Two weeks ago, the board approved a single "No Right Turn On Red" from South Main Street onto Elm.

Richards had also proposed an increase in the time for the pedestrian cross walk light from 13 seconds to 25 seconds.

Lachance questioned whether the downtown traffic would back up around 4:00 p.m. if "No Right Turn On Red" signs were posted at all corners.

"I understand what you're saying," Richards replied, "but that is the busiest intersection. You have people coming from all different directions, even up to 8:00 or 9:00 p.m. What do you want," he asked the board, "public safety or traffic backing up? You have to make a determination. I'm more concerned with the safety of the public than with traffic backing up," he said. "You have to have a happy medium there. That is a pretty heavy intersection for pedestrians."

Selectman Gerry Bleau asked Richards why he was recommending "No Right Turn On Red" signs for Main onto Elm and Elm onto South Main since there is a good field of vision on those turns.

Richards replied, "The problem is with the elderly. A lot of people stop quickly, then continue turning. The elderly don't have time to get out of their way. We had a fatality there already. Are we in such a rush that we can't wait a few seconds for the light to turn?" he asked.

Cristo said Richards had made an interesting point. "If you look at it from that perspective," Cristo remarked, "we can all be a little more patient so our elderly can get across the street."

Gauthier told his colleagues that the board should go along with the Safety Officer's recommendations. He agreed that there may be some backup but said the safety of the pedestrians should be the top priority. He also noted that people are still making a right turn on red at the corner where it is posted. "They don't care," he said. "If you do all four areas at the intersection they are going to get used to doing it. I think we should post all four corners."

The board voted unanimously to follow the Safety Officer's recommendation and post all four corners. They also approved Richards' recommendations for the following:

- to post stop signs at Maple and Pearl Streets.
- to send a letter to the DPW to make the right lane on Grafton Road a right turn only onto Wheelock Avenue.
- to hold a public hearing to consider the removal of two large trees on Greenwood Street to improve the visibility for drivers coming out of McCracken Road heading east or north. The hearing will be held by the Tree Warden. The trees are on town property but a hearing is required because they are large shade trees.

Lachance praised Richards' work as Safety Officer and said it is appreciated. Cristo remarked that Lachance was speaking for the majority of the board.

Leave of Absence

The board heard a request from Patrolman Mark Moore for a three month leave of absence to try out a position as a patrolman in Fort Lauderdale, Florida.

Stokowski supported Moore's request as there has been past practice for similar situations. He also called attention to the number of hours Moore has contributed to the department on his own time.

Moore said that the cap placed on retirement pensions for public employees in the State of Massachusetts was one factor in considering the Florida position.

The board unanimously approved Moore's request.

Correspondence

Lachance read a copy of a letter that Chief Stokowski received from Millbury resident Eleanor Stockhaus. The letter thanked the chief for his efforts in trying to ensure the well being and safety of residents during the July 4th fireworks celebration. Calling last year's problems "a horrendous situation," Stockhaus said, "The anxiety is already building in anticipation of what this year will bring. We always have been consoled with the great performance of Millbury's Police Department and your men and women are an excellent group," Stockhaus said. "However, last year was a formula for a disaster - it created a situation where one felt as if we were sitting on a time bomb waiting to explode, which would take more than your efficient department to diffuse."

The letter also called for the Lions Club to declare Earth Day in Millbury after the weekend celebration "to clean all the rubbish and garbage littering downtown and people's property. Again," the letter concluded, "thank you so very much for your having to convince the Selectmen and the Lions Club that the people living in town deserve consideration as taxpayers, members of the community and as human beings. Sir, you have my support 100%."

Lachance commented that it was a very nice letter.

Boat Ramp

Chase reported that Sutton officials have expressed concern with the number of boats on Lake Singletary. The central point for parking access to the Lake is located in Millbury.

Stokowski reported on an incident last Sunday when two bass clubs almost came to blows because of a mix up in the issuance of permits by the state. He said one club arrived at the lake earlier than the one with the permit, and when the club with the permit showed up it could not get access to the parking lot.

Lachance noted that only 15 to 20% of the lake is located in Millbury. "Why should we put up with this hassle," he said. "It should be first come, first served. If they (the state) want a gate keeper, let them take care of it. It could close down and I wouldn't lose any sleep over it." He also suggested that Camp Marion in Sutton would be a good area for a boat ramp.

Stokowski said that parking is already handled on a first come, first served basis since permits do not guarantee a reservation for space.

Cristo suggested that tickets be written up for illegal parking in the area. He noted that parking on the street has been outlined. Stokowski said many boaters don't mind paying the $10 fine for a day of boating on the lake.

Lachance said he didn't want to see the taxpayer's money spent to patrol a state boat ramp. He also suggested that those who make the rules at the boat ramp be asked to come to a meeting. "Why should we waste our time," he said.

Chase suggested the possibility of charging a fee and having a gatekeeper at the ramp. Cristo said if that were the case Millbury people should be exempt form the fee. He then suggested looking into towing violators. Stokowski explained that two attached vehicles cannot be towed.

Cristo then proposed issuing four or five tickets to anyone who parks there all day. "Load them up with tickets," he said. "Maybe that will resolve the problem."

Use of Town Counsel

The board denied a request from the Planning Board for use of Town counsel for legal services to appeal a ZBA decision on granting a variance to Alexander and Shirley C. Dempsey Jr. The Planning Board was seeking to challenge the Board of Appeals' decision to grant a variance of lot area requirements for property located on the North side of Riverlin Street.

The board said the request would not only set a bad precedent but would pose a difficulty for town counsel in trying to represent two different town boards in a legal action.

Executive Session

At 8:25 the Cable TV Committee met with the board in executive session for 55 minutes to discuss the renewal of the town's contract with Greater Media which expires in 1991.

Miscellaneous

Following executive session, the board completed a few items of old business before adjourning at 9:22.

- A hearing on the reduction of bus route service for the town will be held on June 12.
- Chase said the $2,000 proposed for testing the highway department fuel tanks could be used to do the repair work on the Center School roof if the tanks are not tested.
- Cristo said he received a call from the Assistant Secretary of Public Safety, Barbara Kopans, who said calls were received concerning the payment for use of the National Guard for the fireworks on July 3. Cristo said Kopans told him the State would pick up the bill.

Hot and Cold Buffet

MANCHAUG - St. Anne's Church will feature a Hot and Cold Buffet on Saturday, June 9, from 4-7 p.m. Tickets are $5.00 for adults and $2.50 for children 12 and under. A penny social and raffle will be held in conjunction wiht the dinner.

The menu will consist of: Ham and Beans; Stuffed Cabbage; Swedish Meatballs; Turkey; Kielbasa and Peppers; Ziti with Sauce; Potato, Macaroni, and Tossed Salads; Buns; Pickles; Butter; Olives; Jello with cookies; coffee, tea, and punch.

Week Five of SYBL Major League Action

SUTTON - Dan Soucy's big bat carried the A's past the Cubs last Wednesday in a tight 7-5 ballgame. First time pitcher Justin Teman pitched brilliantly for the Cubs, and Aaron Armer provided the offense. At Camp Blanchard, Jay Conley and Adam Petkus hooked up in a pitcher's duel, giving up just one hit apiece as the Yankees remained undefeated in a 7-4 ballgame.

On Thursday, the Cubs stopped the Yankees winning streak at 6 behind the strong complete game pitching of Colby Fillipelli, the defense of Andy Teman, and the hitting of Neil Zimage and John Roach. For the Yankees, John Salem had a fine defensive outing.

Keenan also said that the term "wholesale distribution" is not defined in the Millbury bylaws. "We submit to you that Mr. Morin's interpretation as a freight terminal would not be a permitted use and a wholesale distribution center would be a permitted use," he said. "The ZBA has the authority to overrule and revoke a cease and desist order. In order to determine if Majestic is a wholesale distributor or not, you have to look at what they do and what a freight and transportation terminal does. What Majestic does is completely different than what the common usage of what a freight or truck terminal is."

Keenan said Majestic's operation includes a 2nd floor office where orders are received, bills of lading and receipts are sent out, and papers are delivered to truck drivers to show where the goods are to be shipped. He also said that trucks are maintained and repaired which is permitted in an Industrial A zone.

Keenan maintained that Fantasia has "tried desperately" to placate and cooperate with neighbors. "He has tried to upgrade the road as well as do other things," Keenan said. "He tried not to use Wales Street and to use Foxboro Street but was not allowed that by the Town of Millbury through the State DPW that has ordered they not use Foxboro Street to Rte. 20." He said that "hopefully and ultimately" the trucks will be able to exit on Foxboro Street to Rte. 20 rather than Wales Street.

"This business is not and cannot be seen as a freight terminal," Keenan said. "In our brief to you, it clearly shows the difference. I submit that all the facts and case law point to the board's reversal of the decision of the Zoning Administrator."

Zoning Administrator Rene Morin then argued, "If I drive a truck from New York up to that site, drop the box off, I then must know where to take the box. Therefore, there must be a dispatcher. So if there is a dispatcher, then it is a terminal. Whether they empty the freight there or it's in the trailer itself, to me it's a terminal."

Bill Martin then read a letter from the Planning Board in which they indicated that they support the interpretation of the Zoning Administrator.

Hulseberg explained that the zoning administrator has the responsibility to make determinations based upon his practical experience and knowledge. He said he too has visited the site and counted at least 36 trailers there on one occasion. "You are going to see photos tonight from residents who live right there who were there first and have rights under the town's bylaws," Hulseberg said. "I have been up there when refrigeration trucks have been left running, and heard the noise and smelled the odors these residents have to put up with. Under the bylaws it's not right."

Hulseberg then referred to the change from Industrial B to Industrial A made by the ZBA. "When you folks did that," he said, "you denied these people (residents) some very important rights." He then pointed to a section of the bylaw under Article 2, Section 25.13 that stipulates that under Industrial B a wholesale distribution operation would require an environmental analysis and a special permit. "This would provide the folks in this room protection for their houses because of the noise and the stink and traffic congestion. By making this Industrial A," Hulseberg argued, "these folks lost all those rights by this board's previous action on a previous petition. What is being operated here is a terminal. The residents up there should be afforded some protection. Maybe the applicant was acting in good faith. He never asked the Building Inspector what the rules and regulations were before he got into a contractual agreement. He has been here before or at least two occasions," Hulseberg pointed out. "He knows what the procedure is; he has an attorney; he should have asked for an interpretation. Further, by having those vehicles parked there, there are violations in the bylaws which require that any area to be used for parking must be paved. He is violating another bylaw."

Hulseberg also referred to a statement made by Keenan that indicated that Fantasia was prohibited from using Foxboro Street. "I was up there doing a study for the jug handle on Rte. 20," he said, "and I witnessed on at least two occasions that trucks were using that street even though the road is posted."

Attorney Paul Kolesnikovas said he was asked by Wales Street residents William Rogers and Ed Joubert to speak on their behalf. Referring to the Planning Board meeting minutes from April 24 through June 12, 1989 he said it was obvious that the planning board was addressing concerns relating to Fantasia's using the building to house construction equipment and an office for his own use. "The Planning Board approved the site plan and plan contingent upon Mr. Fantasia's getting a variance before this board," Kolesnikovas said. He also noted that abutters had voiced their objections at those meetings. "All of a sudden," Kolesnikovas said, "a Board of Appeals meeting comes up and there are no objections, there is no one there at the meeting. We ask why. We can only say that Chapter 40A, Section 11 was not abided by. There was not notice given to the abutters, statutory notice by mail."

Valentino countered, "Before you go any further, let me straighten one thing out. We get our abutter list from the Town Clerk. Letters are sent out. Where they go after they are in the mail, we have no control. The law states we have to send letters out, it does not say we have to send them registered."

Kolesnikovas pointed to case law that says if it is not shown the abutters did get actual notice, the validity of giving that first variance is very much in question. "There is case law that if the abutters are prejudiced, that variance can be completely overruled in court."

He went on to explain that in August, 1989 an Order of Conditions shows that Fantasia was given a variance for construction of a building for the purpose of housing his construction equipment and other Industrial I uses. "If the board intended to open it up to other uses," Kolesnikovas asked, "was it properly addressed? You get a repeated pattern of Mr. Fantasia doing things and then coming in after the fact and saying that it is a hardship. The board realizes that is not a hardship recognized by Massachusetts General Laws. That is something that should have been checked out way before. Did the board give a variance for this type of permitted use?" he asked. "I think the answer to that has to be no."

"I realize the people here have concerns," Bill Moore said, "but they have to realize they live in an Industrial I zone. My understanding of Industrial I is that a wholesale distribution operation is permitted, if not with bulk storage. I've been up there to that building and they are not storing anything up there."

Louis "Pinky" Fantasia said the abutters did receive their letters. "I was told they would not show up for that meeting," he said. "They did receive their letters; I was told that by Mr. Rogers."

William Rogers argued, "I did not tell Pinky that. Pinky said nothing to us about trucks coming in or this variance or anything else." Rogers said the trucks are going up and down Wales Street 24 hours a day. "He told us before that we would see nothing up here after 5:00 or 6:00 o'clock at night."

Rogers said also that police department records show that they have been called up there many times. "They are parking out there in the yard hours and hours at a time. I've called him (Fantasia) on it several times. Some of those trucks are running all night long. He does nothing about it. We can't even sleep in the two bedrooms in the front of the house anymore." Rogers said he understood that when the building was allowed up it was going to be strictly for Fantasia's use. "That's what they (ZBA) told us." Rogers said.

Rogers continued, "We had a real estate fellow come up and look at our house and he told us it ain't worth nothing with those trailer trucks there."

Wales Street resident Ed Joubert said there were two loading docks for two trucks at the building. "They take stuff off one truck, put it on another truck," he said. He then showed pictures indicating that the

June Highlights

DESIGNER BANDANNA WORKSHOP, Tuesday, June 5, 3:30. Beaded bandannas are the rage among teens in the South and Southwest and are quickly becoming the new fashion trend right here in New England. Learn how to make a beaded bandanna and stay ahead of the fashion style at the library. Recommended for kids in grades six and up. Registration is limited, and the cost is $10 to pay for materials. Sponsored by the Friends of the Millbury Public Library.

VOLUNTEER WORKSHOP, Tuesday, June 12, at 3:30 p.m. Kids in grades four and up who are interested in volunteering in the children's room must first attend this volunteer workshop. Volunteer opportunities include helping to set up and run summer programs, making signs, decorating the children's room, and other special projects. Registration starts June 5.

FATHER'S DAY WORKSHOP, Wednesday, June 13, 3:30 p.m. Kids from grades one and up will have the chance to learn how to make a "designer" T-shirt for their fathers for Father's Day. To participate, just bring in a polyester/cotton blend T-shirt, white or light color, in your father's size. Registration starts June 5.

AMERICAN ART Workshop, Wednesday, June 20, 1:00 p.m. Kids in grades one and up are invited to attend a special American art program conducted by Worcester Art Museum instructor Susan Fisher. Ms. Fisher will talk to children about American art from the works of early itinerant artists to contemporary artists of the 20th century. She will also involve participants in a special hands-on project. This program is funded by the Massachusetts Arts Lottery through the Millbury Arts Council. Registration starts June 12.

SUMMER PROGRAMS AND STORY HOUR REGISTRATION starts on Tuesday, June 19. Kids preschool age and up will want to join us at the library this summer and "get a taste" for reading. Ask our children's room staff about our menu of children's programs being served this summer.

FINE FREE WEEK ENDS JUNE 2. Starting in June, the library will start charging overdue fines once again. As in the past, fines will be charged for each day a library item is late. Please remember that fines for items that are overdue and dropped off in the book deposit box must be paid the next time more library materials are checked out. Overdue charges per day: .02 books, magazines, records, audio cassettes (maximum fine .50); $2.00 for video cassette tapes.

Call 865-1181 to register for programs. Library hours: Tuesday through Thursday, 10-8; Friday, 10-6; Saturday, 10-1.

Millbury Historical Society

MILLBURY - The annual meeting of the Millbury Historical Society will be held on Tuesday, June 12, at 7:30 p.m. at the West Millbury Union Chapel. Officers and trustees for 1990-1991 will be elected. The Society will be joining with members of the West Millbury Social Union. Those attending are invited to bring an object from the past to display.

Esten Durstoff, a Millburyite, served with the famous Yankee Division during WWI. His uniform, helmet, gas mask, mess kit, medals, stationery, a Christmas card sent from Salmagne, France on December 10, 1918, a large photograph of his division , plus other Durstoff army possessions from the society's collection will be featured.

There will also be World War I items which belonged to Alexander F. Ballard, founder of Ballard's Drug Store, including his wristlets, leggings, and a 100 pound H&E cane sugar sack.

Millbury's 177th birthday will be celebrated with cake and other refreshments. The public is invited.

Library Honors Aurelie Burbank

Aurelie Burbank was honored recently for 18 years of service on the Board of Trustees of the Millbury Public Library. An open house was held at the Library to recognize her contributions.

Leona Dona Receives Preservation Award from Mass Historical Commission

BOSTON - Two of the Massachusetts Historical Commission "Preservation Awards" for 1990 went to the Blackstone Valley. The honors were awarded May 16 at the State House. The awards were for work to save the Marble Farm in Sutton and to preserve "The Lawns" on Two Oak Street in Grafton.

Leona Dona, principal in the heroic effort to save the Marble Farm in Sutton, was both leader and public symbol of the preservation of the 18th Century farm and farmhouse.

The restoration of Two Oak Street was commissioned by owner Judy Smith of Grafton. The building is located on the Grafton Common.

"Only a handful of Preservation Awards are given each year by the Massachusetts Historical Commission, yet this year two were awarded to the Valley, which is a triumph, and a recognition of the important preservation work going on here," said Richard Moore, Chairman of the Blackstone River Valley National Heritage Corridor Commission.

Students Take Field Trips

MILLBURY - Students in the clothing classes at Millbury High School attended a fashion show at the School of Fashion Design in Boston on May 11. The show was entitled, "SFD Collection '90" and featured over 200 designs modeled and created by the students in the School of Fashion Design.

On May 9 and 10, students from the Family Living Class visited Worcester Probate Court to observe court proceedings. Teachers said the purpose of the trip was for students to gain a better understanding of divorce proceedings and related child custody issues. During the visit, judges worked with students to explain causes, the process for the laws and consequences of obtaining a divorce. Students were able to use this field trip experience to relate to information they had studied and discussed in their classes.

Summer Hours for Town Offices

MILLBURY - The Board of Selectmen, Town Clerk, Town Collector, Board of Assessors, Sewerage Department and Building Inspector's offices will be open on the following evenings during the summer season: June 12, June 26, July 10, July 24, August 7, August 21.

The Board of Assessors will also meet on the following evenings: June 14 and 28, July 12 and 26, August 9 and 23.

Students Travel to Salem

SUTTON - Sutton Junior-Senior High School's eighth grade history class travelled to Salem on May 17 to learn more about life in Massachusetts in the late 1600's, including the Salem Witch trials. The highlight of the field trip was a multi-media presentation at the Salem Witch Museum. Students also took a walking tour of Salem and visited other historic landmarks.

Attend Computer Fair

MILLBURY - On April 30, Patrick Dore and Tami Taylor from the R.E. Shaw Middle School attended the "Kids and Computers '90 Fair" at the State House in Boston. The demonstration was sponsored by Massachusetts Computer Using Educators, Inc., MASSCUE.

Patrick Dore demonstrated a difficult robotic program called Fisher Technik. He programmed the computer which in turn made the robot react.

Tami Taylor worked on two programs. One was called the Children's Publishing Program which is popular at the Middle School this year. This program allows children to write articles, poems, newspapers, and illustrate them with colored pictures. Tami also demonstrated the word processing and graphic program called Logo Writer. The children were accompanied by their computer teacher, Mrs. McCurdy.

Wildlife Encounters

BOSTON - Springtime inevitably means more encounters between wildlife and people. Nesting sites and foraging areas become increasingly scarce as natural habitats are depleted.

In anticipation of public queries about injured, young, orphaned and other wildlife, the Massachusetts Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals (MSPCA) has issued several recommendations for handling wildlife encounters.

INJURED WILDLIFE

- Be aware of roadside wildlife. Many injuries to wildlife occur at night when nocturnal animals are active. Raccoons, opossums, skunks and other nighttime foragers are often victims of road accidents.
- Use extreme caution if moving an injured wild animal. Heavy gloves and other protective clothing should be worn to help guard against being bitten by a frightened animal. Wrap the animal in a towel or blanket to prevent further injury to the animal. Place the animal in an enclosed container, such as a cardboard box, with proper ventilation. Contact a local humane organization or wildlife center immediately for assistance.
- Injured animals are easily frightened. Keep pets and children away from injured wildlife.

YOUNG WILDLIFE - Springtime is breeding season for many animals. Young birds, rabbits, squirrels and other wildlife may sometimes wander or fall from nests.

- If the nest is visible and within reach, put the animal back.
- What appears to be an orphaned animal may not be. Unless the mother has been killed or the animals are injured, resist the temptation to move young wildlife. Keep children and other animals away from the area.
- If the mother does not return for an extended period of time, call the nearest wildlife center or humane society.
- Do not attempt to feed the animal, wild animals have special dietary needs and foreign foods may be harmful.
- Be wary when removing dead trees and mowing the lawn; dead trees provide shelter to many animals. Burrowing animals, such as rabbits, may nest underneath grass and tree stumps in the yard.

NESTING IN AND AROUND THE HOUSE - there are several ways to prevent wildlife from nesting in or near your home:

- Cap chimneys with screens; this is a favorite nesting place of raccoons.
- Fix breaks or rips in gutters, shingles, eaves, walls and other possible entrances to your house.
- Keep garage, bulkhead and cellar doors closed.
- Secure trash can lids or keep garbage indoors.
- Remember that if you feed neighborhood birds and cats, you are also attracting other animals to your property.

If you have a family of wild animals in your house:

- Place ammonia soaked rags or mothballs in an area near the nest, not near an exit. Provide adequate ventilation to prevent injury to you or the animal. Check the area often to insure that the mother has been able to move her young from the house.
- At night, keep lights and a loud radio on to make the area inhospitable for the animal.
- When all animals are out, repair or close the original point of entrance.

If after these measures are taken the animals have not relocated, call the nearest humane society or wildlife organization for assistance. Fur further information about wildlife encounters, call the MSPCA at (617) 522-7400.

Beacon Hill Roll Call

This week's Beacon Hill Roll Call includes Senator John Houston's votes during the week of May 14-18 as well as the week of May 21-25. The votes of Representatives Richard Moore and Paul Kollios are from the week of May 21-25.

THE SENATE (May 14-18)

TAX PACKAGE (S 1700) - Senate 24-14, gave near final approval and sent to the House its own version of a $1.6 billion tax package. The package raises the gas tax by 10 cents a gallon over two years, increases the tax on unearned income from 10% to 11% and hikes the income tax from 5 to 5.5%. It extends the sales tax to hundreds of previously exempt services and also lowers the sales tax from 5% to 4% between December of this year and January 1992. Supporters said the package is a fair one which is necessary to solve the state's fiscal crisis and fund essential programs. Opponents said the package is outrageous and will hurt taxpayers and the state's economy. They argued there are millions of dollars in budget cuts which should be made before any tax hike is considered. Houston voted for the tax package.

TV AND RADIO (S 1700) - Senate 19-12, refused to suspend rules to allow immediate consideration of a motion to discharge the Rules Committee from further consideration of an order allowing TV coverage of debate on the tax hike and budget. Supporters said the voters should have the right to watch this important debate. Opponents said the Senate is working on a plan for an orderly way to televise all Senate sessions. Houston voted against the rule suspension.

SUNSET (S 1700) Senate 24-12, rejected an amendment requiring every state agency and program to undergo a review once every five years. Amendment supporters said this would allow the legislature to see if each agency and program is necessary and should be funded. Opponents offered no arguments. Houston voted against the amendment.

AIDS (S 1700) - Senate 20-15, approved an amendment providing for an income tax checkoff on the state's tax forms to allow taxpayers to contribute money to a Massachusetts AIDS fund. Supporters said this voluntary system could raise millions for AIDS research. Opponents said this is not the answer to the AIDS problem and urged the state to substantially increase AIDS funding. Houston voted against the amendment.

CIGARETTE TAX (S 1700) Senate 18-17, rejected an amendment hiking the cigarette tax and earmarking $10 million of the tax for smoking prevention and education programs. Amendment supporters said this will put the state's cigarette tax in line with other states and will help people quit smoking and prevent kids from taking up the habit. Opponents said this is another burdensome tax aimed at a specific group of people. Houston voted against the tax hike.

THE SENATE (May 21-25)

FIREFIGHTERS (H 4256) - Senate 22-12 approved an amendment to a bill presuming firefighters who contract certain types of cancer developed the illness because of their jobs. The amendment would require the state, rather than cities or towns, to pay any related disability benefits. Amendment supporters said requiring communities to pay would be a violation of Proposition 2 1/2 because the payment is an unfunded state mandate. Opponents said communities currently pay these benefits and argued the bill presumes the cause of cancer but does not directly impose new benefits. Houston voted for the amendment.

MORE FIREFIGHTERS (H 4256) - Senate 35-1, refused to table the bill which presumes firefighters with cancer received the illness because of the job. Bill supporters said this measure protects and helps firefighters who risk their lives everyday. Opponents said the state simply cannot afford the costs. Houston voted against tabling.

TV AND RADIO (S 1671) - Senate 25-11, refused to discharge the Rules Committee from further consideration of an order providing that tax and budget debate in the Senate be open to television and radio coverage. Supporters said the Senate should be open to live coverage so voters can see the debate. Opponents said it is too difficult and expensive to rush into this complicated coverage. Houston voted against the discharge.

THE HOUSE

INITIAL APPROVAL (H 5700), House 110-47 gave initial approval to the $13.5 million fiscal 1991 state budget. Supporters said the package is a fiscally responsible one which cuts waste and funds necessary services and programs. Opponents said the package is loaded with waste and patronage and depends on over $1 billion in taxes. Moore voted against the package; Kollios voted for it.

MBTA (H 5700), House 89-62 rejected an amendment prohibiting the fiscal 1992 MBTA budget from exceeding its fiscal 1991 budget by more than 5%. Amendment supporters said this will save millions and require the MBTA to be fiscally responsible. Opponents said an arbitrary cap is irresponsible and will hurt consumers who use public transportation. Moore and Kollios voted for the cap.

LABOR SECRETARY (H 5700) - House 141-9 rejected an amendment eliminating the office of the Labor Secretary. Amendment supporters said tis will save $355,824 and argued it will not effect any essential services. Opponents said the amendment will hurt thousands of working people by eliminating their advocate in state government. Moore and Kollios voted to keep the Secretary.

PRINTING (H 5700) - House 78-70 approved an amendment reducing the legislative printing budget from $1.8 million to $1.4 million. Amendment supporters said this bill will save $400,000 and claimed much of the current printing is unnecessary. Opponents said the printing is all necessary and reasonable. Moore voted for the cut; Kollios voted against it.

HEALTH CARE (H 5700) - House 86-69 approved an amendment repealing provisions of the 1988 universal health care bill which requires all employers to provide health insurance to their workers by 1992 or be required to pay into a state fund. Amendment supporters said the state and businesses simply cannot afford universal health care at this time. Opponents said the law will help thousands of people. Some opponents said the House should delay the law for one year instead of repealing it. Moore voted for the amendment to repeal the provisions; Kollios voted against it.

CONVENTION CENTER (H 5700) - House 80-71 rejected an amendment giving the Secretary of Administration and Finance control of the Hynes Auditorium and privatizing management of the Hynes. Amendment supporters said this would eliminate the Massachusetts Convention Center Authority and its arrogance, wasteful spending and empire building. Opponents said the Authority has done a good job and has generated millions of dollars for the economy and the business community. Moore and Kollios voted for the amendment.

MEDICARE (H 5700) - House 88-62 approved an amendment striking an outside budget section which would count the home of an elderly person living alone as an asset if a medical determination has been made that he or she will not return to live in the residence. Amendment supporters said this unfair section would require elderly residents to sell their homes to pay for nursing home care. Opponents said the section is fair and necessary to save up to $50 million and bring Medicaid costs under control. Moore and Kollios voted for the amendment.

LOTTERY (H 5700) - House first approved 78-72, then rejected 87-65 an amendment increasing to 33 1/3% the amount of lottery revenues going to cities and towns. Amendment supporters said this will provide millions of dollars in additional local aid and noted the amendment would expire in one year. Opponents said the increase will come from prize money and claimed this will result in fewer ticket sales and an

Here & There Bits 'N Pieces

. . . by Joe Morin

HI, FOLKS! Is it that time again? Seems it was only a few weeks ago that we got together and spilled our hearts out. Guess what? It was a few weeks ago; time do fly by fast! How about those BSA's at the State House and in Washington? My, those Bozos have been working overtime sticking it to us, haven't they?

Don't they realize that we're in a recession, plants are closing, people being let go from their jobs? The cost of living is really escalating and the bird brains have found a solution: Raise the taxes! Sock it to 'em....The less we have in our pockets, the less we spend, the economy spirals downward, next stop Depression....It's all over folks, get your money out of the bank and have one hell of a time with it before THEY take it away from you...Taxachusetts! For sure now!...But remember in November, it's voting time. Get those scoundrels out of there...put in new ones. T'ain't funny, McGee!

SO MUCH OTHER STUFF to talk about, let's get off politics for awhile; it's disheartening, discouraging....WAS AT BIG D the other day doing a little shopping, when over the store intercom came the following announcement: "Will the person who lost his or her upper plate please report to the courtesy booth! We found it lying on the floor." I kid you not, someone probably let out a good sneeze, thereby releasing the uppers!

YOU WANT TO know why our taxes are high, and "Read My Lips" Bush is planning on a tax hike? Here is one reason: the U.S. House of Representatives has once again proved its special touch for "free mail" and has spent nearly double its postage budget in this, an election year....They will spend nearly 80 million (yupp, that's million) on taxpayer funded mail in fiscal 1990.

The mountain of trash is causing other financial burdens to the taxpayers. The House BSA's have requested money for 609 additional mailroom employees to handle the backload as well as a 48,000 lb. truck for the express purpose of moving mass mailings between Capitol Hill and a warehouse. That's where our hard earned money is going, folks....Oh, by the way, the Tax Foundation has informed us that May 5 is the day of this year when the federal, state and local governments are paid off. From that day on, the median American is working for his own account....At the rate they're going now, we will be working well into June to pay all those taxes being assessed us....

Who would now dare propose a rescinding of Proposition 2 1/2 to raise property taxes at this time? They wouldn't, would they?

LAST COMMENT on taxes and Bozo politicians. Was that applauding, cheering we heard when the bozos passed that tax package? Adding insult to injury....

O.K., NOW FOR A LITTLE FUN....Coming home one day last week from the market (seems as though I'm always in the market) kept noticing people waving at me, honking their horns and pointing! Had no idea what was going on. I waved back, honked back, played their little game. I didn't realize I had that many acquaintances! Ha!...Found out what all this brouhaha was about. While loading the groceries in the car I had forgotten to take the gallon of milk off the trunk and paraded home with the milk on the trunk, without falling, all the way into my driveway. A neighbor noticed it and started laughing. What a dipstick. No, not the neighbor, me!...Friends, believe me, these things happen to me, really, I kid you not!...IT'S ALL right for politicians to stand for the red, white and blue, but why do so many have to lie for the green! And the SHIP OF STATE would be better off if there weren't so many pirates on board. I like that one! SPEAKING of pirates and robbers, there was this guy from Dallas who broke into a home and held the owner at knifepoint. Apparently he decided his victim was worse off than he was and gave back the $8 he had stolen. Ha! I like that one, too.

PEE WEE (me mutt) chased a cat into the yard shed and cornered him. But Pee Wee didn't realize it was a big Tom and was ready for a fight. That Tom came flying out of the shed, scaring the hell out of pee Wee, who took off like a bat out of you know where. I've never seen a dog fly, turn a corner, and head for the house. The sissy dog! HEY! You wanna add spice to your next spaghetti sauce? (Karen in Virginia Beach, are you listening?) Add a couple of tablespoons of barbecue sauce to it! Makes a difference....JAPAN boasts of having very little crime and no drug problems. So why are they buying New York?

UNUSUAL OBITUARY...A funeral director hesitated when he read the obituary this woman from Madison Wisc. wrote for her husband:

"In lieu of flowers, his family requests one hour of abstinence of alcohol and smoking in his memory."

(Strange, but thought provoking.)

A flea once lived on a pheasant - Who was royally vain and unpleasant - 'Til the flea, on a whim - Bit the "h" out of him; And now he's only a peasant

YOU HEARD IT HERE, FIRST! Remember way back, when we spoke of those gas pump prices and we questioned how much of a difference there really was in the 98 cents, $1.02 a gallon? Well now, according to a Congressional study, some service stations pass off regular gasoline as higher priced super premium! This is costing motorists over $150 million a year. How about that? Remember that radio program, "Who Do You Trust?" We can ask that same question today, who in the hell can the average guy trust? God Bless America!

MOTHER TERESA is calling it a day....After years of working with, living with, helping the poor, downtrodden, the destitute, this daughter of the Lord, due to ill health, is calling it a day! What a woman! What a real Christian! What a human being! A saint in all its true meaning. She loved all, endured all. God was always No. 1 in her life, in her work, in her daily living. How He must love her! Thank you, Mother Teresa! When your time comes the Lord will be awaiting you with open arms! Mother Teresa, you're the Real McCoy!

"150 Voters Spend $12,953,871 at Annual Town Meeting" was a recent Chronicle headline. What a shopping trip! But $8,300 for a photo copying machine? But we can afford it! Right? Dismiss a few more teachers!

"THEY KNEW BETTER - the most shocking thing about the savings and loan scandal is not the hundreds of billions of dollars that will have to be provided by the taxpayers, or the outright fraud perpetrated by perhaps one of each four S&L operators. The worst aspect is that the people who run the U.S. knew what was happening..." R. Reeves

GOD BLESS AMERICA!...Land that I love...Yes, Lord, Bless our beloved America, even though we have a terrible drug problem; pornography is prevalent; murder and mayhem on the rise; some shysters in business and on the political scene are robbing the poor blind; the have's are taking advantage of the have nots; STAND BESIDE HER...AND GUIDE HER...Yes, Lord! we need you beside us; guarding and guiding us all along the way, because we know that without You all is lost! THRU THE NIGHT...WITH THE LIGHT FROM ABOVE...Keep that light shining Lord! That beacon of hope...FROM THE MOUNTAINS, TO THE PRAIRIES, TO THE OCEANS WHITE WITH FOAM...Yes Lord! We've polluted most of those beautiful resources You were kind enough to bestow on us. Someday, Lord, we'll smarten' up, give us a chance? GOD BLESS AMERICA! OUR HOME SWEET

HOME....Lord, there are a lot of good people out there in this good land. With Your help we'll sort things out. It's still a great country! We can't let it all go down the drain. Too many have given their lives for this great land....We've all got to roll up our sleeves and help out in any way possible.

IT WORKS! IT WORKS! We speak of a kitchen gadget we purchased recently at the Auburn Mall. A cone-shaped, steel upright rack to bake a chicken on! It actually does what the ads say it's supposed to do; a small miracle. You take the bird, wash, salt and flavor it, push it through the rack with the derriere on top. Place it on a foil lined pan, spread a little water and your favorite liqueur in the pan, and baste the bird now and then. Mamma Mia! Diliciosa! They also have these wire racks for the little birds, those cornish babies! How about that! Something that works, not too expensive, and I'm satisfied. I don't say that too often.

GOTTA TELL YOU this one....A man trained his dog to go around the corner to Bud's Lounge every day with two dollar bills under his collar to get a pack of cigarettes. Once the man only had a five, so he put it under the collar and sent the dog on his way....An hour passed and the mutt still hadn't returned, so the man went to Bud's and found his dog sitting on a bar stool drinking a cold one! He said, "You've never done this before." Replied the dog, "I never had the money before." Good grief!

"Married, With Children" has got to be the raunchiest show on TV. Anything and everything goes on...pure, unadulterated trash....

RYAN WHITE was a little guy, no, a big guy with a lot of class....You see, Ryan died several weeks ago from AIDS. He had courage, forgiveness, strength, love...he had it all! But what really left an impression on me was when he appeared on the Phil Donohue show and talked about his illness to a young group of kids. He was asked how he would treat someone else who was an AIDS victim. He didn't hesitate and said, "People will take a dog in their homes, feed it, love it, care for it...would we do the same for someone not of our religion, color, origin or if they had the dreadful disease?" Be at peace, young Ryan. Your home now! What a kid. What a young gentleman. You've been an inspiration to many.

HEY! HOW ABOUT THIS? The world if full of cheats and con-men, many of them masquerading as bankers. From time to time, the U.S. Office of the Comptroller of the Currency releases a list of banks that are not banks at all. These entities have no bank charters, no authorization to operate a banking business in this country, and are not insured by the FDIC. A list has been issued warning the public on these non bona fide outfits. They're out there, folks! Ya gotta be on guard....Crooked Bozos!

MOLLY YARD, president of NOW (or is it THEN!) is one gal whose dander I wouldn't want to get up....What a kisser on that gal! She should team up with Hulk Hogan....BELIEVE THIS OR NOT! The following appeared recently in a Boston paper: "Biting toilet is blamed for boy's constipation." A Springfield, Ill. pediatrician reports in a medical journal that one of his patients was scared into constipation by a television commercial that showed a toilet turning into a biting monster. The youngster refused to use the family bathroom at home, fearing the monster....(P.S.) I've seen that commercial, scares the heck out of me too. Ha-ha! MRS. BUSH of Washington has more class in her small finger than all those gals attending Wellesley College.

HAVE VAN! WILL DRILL! A dentist out West purchased a mobile drilling van, ie. a dental office on wheels. He parks the van at a certain spot, invites customers on board, and then he does his thing. See, when you've got the dough anything is possible. Good idea, though!

IF THEY EVER get that billion dollar eye in the sky operating properly we will be in for a treat. Picture this scenario: the scope is working, scanning the heavens, a bright light is seen way out there in outer space. The eye zooms in, the scientists are all aflutter, and then, behold there sitting on a throne of stars in all His majesty is the Mighty One, waving back and saying, "Well, well, my children, you finally found Me! Now do you believe that I exist?"

DIDN'T TAKE LONG for the family of Nicole Ravesi to cash in on her kidnapping....Fox TV news has exclusive rights. You wanna bet a movie is in the offing?

GET WELL WISHES extended to Pete G. of Sutton, just getting over a knee operation. Peter is anxious to get back out there on the ball field; he misses soccer and is anxious to get back in the game again....His wife Bertha is also praying for a speedy recovery for Pete; he's starting to get on her nerves! Ha-ha! C'mon now, Pete, be nice, do your exercises, take your medicine....DID YOU know that scientists have crossbred a termite with a praying mantis? Yupp! Now they have an insect that says grace before eating your house. How about that? PRES. BUSH says you don't have to be rich to stay in shape, although he has an array of expensive exercise equipment for his personal use a few steps from his office; not to mention a horseshoe pit, heated pool and tennis courts nearby. To the poor, he advises doing calisthenics and a lot of walking. Gee! Mr. Pres., thanks!

CONGRATULATIONS are in order! Andree A. Belisle on your winning third place award for investigative news. We're all darned proud of you and the Chronicle.

DOO-DOO to the rescue...the rector of Trinity Episcopal Church in Hartford had preached to his parish about how Christ uses the most natural things in His miracles. So when the church received a whopping $110,000 repair bill for its organ, it was fitting that nature provide some help. The minister is cashing in on more than 1,200 pounds of doo doo droppings from the birds in the church's bell tower over the last 80 years. The "stuff" is being bagged and sold as fertilizer...3 lb. bags at $3 a bag. It's being marketed as "Sign of the Dove" fertilizer...how about that?

WELL, me buckoes, that's it for now. Sorry we were rough on the pols this issue, but some deserve it. They earned it. Take care, good friends, until we meet again. God Love you. Your pal,

Joseph

Valley Tech Auto Tech Team Scores Highest in State

UPTON - A team of students from the Blackstone Valley Regional Vocational Technical High School Automotive Technology Department received the High Written Score trophy at the 1990 Plymouth-AAA Troubleshooting Contest Massachusetts State Finals held recently at Assabet Valley Vocational School in Marlboro. The team consisted of John Pignataro and Keith Talbot, both of Sutton.

This team also captured the third place overall trophy in the hands-on portion of the competition, where they achieved a perfect vehicle - finding and trearing all the bugs planted in a 1990 car.

Sutton COA to Distribute Surplus Foods

SUTTON - The Sutton Council on Aging will distribute surplus foods on Friday, June 8, from 9:30 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. at the Sutton Town Hall, lower level, rear entrance. Distribution for Sutton residents will be from this site only.

Food items are: butter, flour, corn meal, peanut butter, veggie beans, and honey. Residents must bring proof of low income eligibility. For more information, contact the Sutton COA at 865-9798.

Thank You...

The Shaw Middle School and the Elmwood Street School each received a new Apple computer 5.25 disk drive from Stop and Shop during its Apples for Students program. Just to qualify to receive these disk drives, Millbury students and townspeople had to contribute over $50,000 worth of register tapes to the schools.

The schools would like to thank all who donated their tapes, and a special thanks to Debbie Harris and Kathie Sarcione who counted and organized these tapes.

eventual decrease in local aid. Moore and Kollios voted for the amendment on the first vote and against the amendment on the second vote.

BALLOT QUESTION (H 5700) - House 125-25 approved an amendment placing a non-binding question on the 1990 ballot asking voters whether they would support elimination of all property and sales taxes and replace them with a graduate income tax based on what an individual pays in federal income taxes. Amendment supporters said this will begin a debate on restructuring the entire tax system. Opponents said non-binding referendum questions have no effect and simply clutter the ballot. Some opponents said they simply oppose a graduate income tax. Moore and Kollios voted to place the question on the ballot.

SCHOLARSHIPS (H 5700) - House 144-3 rejected an amendment providing that $68 million in higher education scholarship money go only to students attending state colleges and universities. Amendment supporters said the money should go to help students who will not be able to afford pending state tuition hikes. Opponents said the amendment is unfair and will hurt thousands of private college students. Moore and Kollios voted against the amendment.

WELFARE (H 5700) - House 95-52 approved an amendment providing that welfare recipients who come from other states receive their first year benefits at a level equal to that they received in the state they left, assuming the level was lower. Amendment supporters said this will stop people from moving here just to receive higher benefits. Opponents said the amendment is unconstitutional and unfair to new residents. Moore voted for the amendment; Kollios voted against it.

Historical Society Meeting

SUTTON - The Sutton Historical Society will meet on Tuesday, June 5, at 8:00 p.m. at the Manchaug Baptist Church. Following the business meeting, Nicholas Langheart of Douglas, who teaches historical architecture at Clark University, will speak on the subject "Early Houses and Churches of Sutton." Refreshments will be served and the public is welcome to attend.

Graduate from Quinsigamond

WORCESTER - Local students graduating from Quinsigamond Community College on May 19 were as follows: ASSOCIATE IN ARTS, James Boucher, Nancy Brennan, Charles Darling, and Lisa Millette, all of Millbury; ASSOCIATE IN SCIENCE - Millbury, Sherrill Abraham, Cheryl Allen, Todd Army, Tracey Breault, Robert Chevalier, Elizabeth Colorio, Michelle Gaboriault, David Krumsiek, Patricia Kupstas, Michael Magliaro, Richard Mahlert, Michael Moore, Jennifer Pearson, Nicholas Stockhaus, Sandra Tebo, Kristen Vaillancourt, Christopher White, Sheila Yankowsky, and Denise Young, Sutton - Linda Bedrosian, Giulio Fusaro, Brian Houlihan, David Kolofsky, Debra Leno, Robert McKinnon, Brenda Nothelfer, Paul Reece, Lucyann Swenson; CERTIFICATE, Leslie Mayo of Millbury and Nicole LeBlanc of Sutton.

Soccer Association Advance Registration

SUTTON - The Sutton Towne Soccer Association (STSA) will hold advance registration for the Fall 1990 soccer season on Saturday, June 2, from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. at the First Congregational Church on the common. The registration fee for the Spring season for upper level players (birth years between 1977 and 1982) is $15 for one player, $30 for two, and $45 for three or more players in the same family. PeeWee registration for players born after 1982 is $15 each. The STSA will have new uniforms in the Fall for all upper level teams and a one-time uniform fee will be charged. The new soccer shirt will be used for four seasons (two years) and it will belong to the players, regardless of the number of seasons played.

New players to the STSA for the Fall season who were born before 1983 must bring a copy of their birth certificate that may be retained by the STSA for league registration purposes. The soccer leagues the STSA play in require proof of age for older players. the STSA is also affiliated with and recognized by MYSA as providing a youth soccer program for Sutton youth.

STSA will elect a nw Board of Directors this Spring on registration day to lead the Association during the coming two years. Retiring officers include: Jack Connor, President; Robert Austin, Vice President/Program Director; and David Strieby, Registrar. The STSA elects its Board of Directors every two years by vote of the parents of each player registered to play on an STSA team.

This Spring, over 310 Sutton youth played soccer on an STSA team. Adult volunteers are needed to assist in coaching and "behind the scenes" organization activities. If you have any questions or would like additional information call David Strieby at 865-6682 or Jack Connor at 865-6470.

Winners of Special Olympics

MILLBURY - The following Millbury athletes competed in the North Central Special Olympics held at Gardner High School on May 8. Overall, the team brought home five Gold medals, three silver medals, two bronze medals, three fifth place ribbons and two fourth place ribbons. Winners were: Aaron Agusto, 1st in softball throw, 4th in 50 meter; Ashley Berardi, 1st in beanbag drop, 2nd in beanbag toss, 1st in 10 meter walk; Matthew Cicero, 5th in softball throw, 5th in 50 meter; Cheryl DeSimone, 2nd in 50 meter, 4th in standing long jump; Julie Doyle, 1st in softball throw, 5th in 50 meter; Karla Grudinsky, 2nd in softball throw, 3rd in standing long jump; Elizabeth Gasco, 3rd in 50 meter, 1st in softball throw. All of these students attend the Shaw Middle School.

Good news. Your money doesn't go far at our bank.

The money you deposit with us stays in the local area.
It's invested in local people. In local businesses and farms. And in our local communities.
It provides jobs, homes, tax revenues.
Right here.
Not somewhere else.
We're your locally owned and operated independent community bank. Our only loyalty is to this area.
You might remember all that when you decide where to deposit your money. It doesn't travel a whole lot when it's deposited with us.
It just hangs around the neighborhood doing good deeds.

From My Window on Farnsworth Court

By "Pastor Rae" Cameron

Congratulations, graduating classes of 1990. "Remember now thy Creator in the days of thy youth." Since we do not have a Baccalaureate as such, allow me to share a few thoughts along those lines.

First, REMEMBER - I graduated from Newton High School way back in 1950; imagine that, forty years ago. You'll be saying the same thing in the year 2030. Well, anyway, we were singing a little ditty of our day, "Darling, do you remember when..." Graduations give you a weird sensation when you realize that this will be the last time you may see any of these friends of yours. It's also a great time to find out what your friend's full name is when the names are read off. Carry with you the fond memories of your educational experience.

Secondly, NOW - graduation day is something special, but so is every day. Teachers will tell you about former students who will come back to visit and say they only wish they had studied harder when they had the opportunity. Lost days and times cannot be reclaimed, so we all have to make the most of every moment of every day.

Lastly, THY CREATOR - a whole section of the Bible is called "Wisdom Literature." In it, we are reminded that all true wisdom comes from God. This quotation comes from the end of the book of Ecclesiastes which tells about the vanity of life lived only "under the sun" or with only an earthly perspective. So, Class of 1990, "remember now thy Creator in the days of thy youth." Amen....

Another Point of View

DEMOCRATS GUARANTEE REPUBLICAN VICTORY

By Lawrence Moore

There is a strong undercurrent of support for John Silber. Chester Atkins, Democrat State Chairman, seems to have gotten this message. Consequently he is exerting his influence to force revision of the 15% rule for inclusion on the primary ballot. He will indeed have a tough fight. The Democrat State Convention cannot by any means be considered an unbiased body. The Democrat town and city committees are made up to a great extent of activists who generally are themselves or are close to those who benefit from a continuation of Democrat control of Massachusetts. These people are with good cause, afraid of John Silber. Although they may fight and squabble among themselves, they will nominate "their own". There is, this year, great danger in that practice for incumbents and for those on the State payroll who should not be there.

On May 23rd a Channel 5/Boston Herald poll indicated Silber and Murphy leading the pack, and Bellotti falling behind. Flood, at the convention, will probably throw whatever support he has to one of the others. It will be interesting to see what happens if Murphy stays ahead of Bellotti into the convention. Interesting confrontations, ethnic, gender, and purely political, will jockey for position. In the end they probably will disappoint, disgust and disenchant many of those, who in the past, have voted the straight Democrat ticket.

Those of you who may have heard Bellotti or who have followed news reports must realize (as indicated by the poll) that Bellotti's answers are vague and call for "trust", abound in generalities, and espouse no particular program.

Murphy is saying all the things she "can" do, but again is very vague on the specifics. Flood seems too far back to be of any consequence. Silber, on the other hand, has taken positive positions, and will even more as time goes on. At least here in Central Massachusetts he came to note (or notoriety) when his visit with a local newspaper was chronicled by the reporters. As admitted by the Editor in Chief later, much of what was written was very "newsworthy", but was taken out of context and did not reflect the true position of Silber. Regardless of what was reported, name recognition for John Silber in our area increased tremendously. More importantly, many people agreed with what he said even when he was misquoted. His criticisms of our welfare system are thought by many to be valid. To my mind, there is merit to censure for people on welfare who continue to have fatherless children.

Not one of us is happy to see people homeless, starving and destitute. Unfortunately, at the moment there is not money to do what needs to be done. In order for us to do something constructive our State must be restructured, and must have long range plans for the solution of people, fiscal, environmental, economic, and the myriad of other challenges we face.

Based on Silber's performance at Boston University, there is a strong feeling that of all the candidates, he is the only one who can convert our problems to challenges. He brought Boston University from a sorry financial state to solvency. He is an administrator ... he is an executive ... he can work with people. He knows the importance of the "bottom line". He is the only one who has had experience in the management of a multi-million dollar business that could not continue if deficit ridden. Yes, they say he is forthright, arrogant, and demanding. He is argumentative, convincing, challenging and a creative thinker. Of all the candidates, he's the only one who ran a successful business.

The one big criticism that makes the headlines is his investment of Boston University funds in a high tech growth business. There are reports that some of his trustees also participated in the investment. That could be conflict of interest. You might say that the trustees saw this as good enough for the college, and by investing their own money, confirmation of their decision. While the investment is being criticized, it has not yet been written off. And like so many high tech investments, it may take time to work out. On the other hand, it may not work out. Let's say it was bad judgment. Contrast that with the hundreds and hundreds of false moves, stupidities, and bad judgments made by the Governor, members of the General Court, and by appointed officials. John Silber may be in this instance guilty of an error of commission. I, for one, would support that as opposed to the sins of omission to which we have been subject.

If, at the convention, the Democrats do not recognize John Silber, there will be a rush to the Republican ticket in November. People are sick and tired of our Government.

The tax fiasco, Kevarian's "holier than thou" attitude, the lack of support given to progressive proposals, and the inability to deal with the total picture have disgusted many Democrats.

We must restructure. Restructuring is not new. Many years ago Representative Richard T. Moore formed an advisory committee which proposed a restructuring plan. Nothing was done about it. No one listened. Silber will listen! Silber will call upon the "brains" in the General Court to assist him.

If he is not allowed a place on the primary ballot, the Republicans, who will do well, will do far better than anyone expects. Where will Silber's support come from? The homeless, the poor and the elderly are being cut. Middle income people are being squeezed. Pensioners are having to tighten their belts. Those well off, and industry (traditionally Republican) will certainly not vote for one of the Democratic candidates.

As I see it, it's either Silber or a Republican for Governor, with big gains for the Republicans in the General Court. And ... I can see a Conservative Speaker elected by Conservative Democrats, the Independents and the Republicans. That conservative speaker might very well be Dick Moore.

So ... unless Silber gets on the Democrat primary ballot ... DEMOCRATS GUARANTEE REPUBLICAN VICTORY!

he was chosen (alternate) was because there was no (permanent) opening - if he's served honorably, he should fill the position automatically."

Connor said the board should go out of its way to determine if alternates are interested in filling vacated positions.

Blois noted that positions are advertised, posted and that letters are sent to all chairmen of boards and committees.

Hamm told the board that the last time he talked to someone from the ZBA, the vacancy was just rumored. He said that no one told him officially that there was a vacancy. "I talked to a member the night of the meeting, and he said - he kind of told me or indicated to me or inferred to me that I wouldn't be eligible unless I had a written statement put into you people, and that it was too late. So, I just assumed, 'OK, too late,' and that was the end of it. But upon further reading and talking to people, I found out that wasn't exactly the way it went about."

Marilyn Belletti, who was interviewed for the opening, said that she and the other residents who submitted their names for consideration did so thinking there was a vacancy. She said it now appears that any alternate would automatically be moved into a permanent position.

"That's not true," Connor responded, "you do have to apply."

"There was one gentleman who was very qualified," Belletti said, "does that mean that he is totally eliminated?"

[Belletti was referring to Don Allison who has a Ph.D. from Lehigh University in engineering and is an engineer for Failure Analysis Associates. Allison applied for the alternate's position in January and serves on the Power Plant Task Force. At the May 15 selectmen's meeting, Patrick Morris, clerk of the ZBA said it was his opinion and the opinion of the board that the ZBA could use Allison's engineering expertise. He recommended appointing Allison to the position at that time.]

Connor replied, "If he, (Hamm) moves on, there'll be an opening as an alternate. But as a matter of fact, he (Allison) did apply two times before this as well," Connor stated.

Belletti expressed confusion over the fact that the position was opened up to town residents then, "because one person didn't know (that there was a vacancy), you're not going to be able to get a permanent position."

"I'm as equally confused as you," Connor responded. "But if the appointment were made from one of the alternates, it would open up a spot for a new alternate. The alternates - there are two of them, they participate in all the hearings. They are active members, and they should be."

Selectman Rick LaBonte added, "The board's feeling when Mr. Hamm was appointed as an alternate was that we had two very qualified candidates. (Hamm and Allison applied in January for the position of alternate; Hamm was appointed to the position.) It's just that it (the vacancy) was open to the public as a permanent position being available," LaBonte explained. "Unfortunately this gentleman (Hamm) didn't know about it; it's not his fault; he really shouldn't be slighted for that at all. It does mean now that all of those (residents) that did apply are going to be eliminated."

"I think the only mistake that was made was not spelling it out," said Chizy. "But when there's an opening on the board like the ZBA, as far as I can remember, it doesn't spell out whether you're an alternate or a regular member, and usually when you're an alternate and you want to become a regular member, it's almost automatic."

Later in the meeting, under "Old Business," the board made the appointments. Mike Chizy, with a second by Rick LaBonte, made a motion to move Paul Hamm from alternate to full member on the ZBA.

Connor placed the name of Don Allison up for nomination saying, "I think by far he's the best qualified person who has come forward in the time that I've been on the board, and prior to that. He has shown quite an interest in the board of appeals over this past year. I just feel strongly, regardless of the situation, that he should be made a permanent member."

No one offered a second to her motion. Hamm was appointed on a 4-1 vote.

LaBonte then nominated Allison for the position of alternate member of the ZBA. It was seconded by Dave Strieby.

Johnson nominated James Chechile whose nomination did not receive a second.

The board voted 3-1-1 in favor of Don Allison with Chizy voting "No" and Johnson abstaining.

Blois explained that both positions were to fill terms which expire June 30, 1991.

Planning Board

Mike Chizy placed the name of Nicholas Moran in nomination for a vacancy on the Planning Board. The vote was 5-0 in favor.

Strieby asked to have the record reflect the selectmen's gratitude for the many candidates who applied for various positions.

Connor informed the audience that the Master Plan Committee needs members, and said it was this committee more than the ZBA which would establish a vision of Sutton for the future.

Earth Removal

Walter Banach appeared before the board to ask for assistance with a long standing problem he has had over the removal of aggregate by Peter Amorello under two permits from the Earth Removal Board. The board informed him that he would have to seek satisfaction through the courts.

Selectmen's Meeting Time

The board considered a previous recommendation that the Selectmen's meetings be moved up to 7:00 PM or 7:30 PM. Johnson said it was difficult for him to make the earlier times.

After more discussion, it was decided that Connor and Blois will try to work out a time agreeable to everyone.

Power Plant Task Force

Chizy said he felt that the board should have its own representative on the Power Plant Task Force. He then placed Dave Strieby's name for consideration.

Johnson asked if this meant removing a member from the task force. Chizy replied that it meant putting a selectman on the task force. [Former selectman Carl Licopoli was the board's representative and served as the chairman of the Task Force.]

"I think there should be a member of this board on there," Connor said, "but I also think that at this time in the transition we can go along by adding a member." She suggested that Strieby might want to work with Licopoli to get updated.

Strieby responded that he felt he could get the update from the minutes and the secretary as well as from any other knowledgeable individual on the committee.

"Changes are made all the time," Chizy said. "If someone dropped off that task force, we'd replace them anyway whether it be today, tomorrow or next month."

Johnson offered an amendment to the motion that an additional member from the board be added to the task force. Connor seconded the motion.

Connor continued, "When you have people who are very active on the board and interested - unless there's a reason to remove them - they aren't doing a good job or they're in conflict or some other reason to remove them, I don't see (why they should be removed.)"

LaBonte commented, "If a person serves on a board as a member of another board and he's no longer a member of that board, do we want to just create another member or do we want another member of the board of selectmen to be on there, which was our intent in the first place."

Johnson said he was not disputing having a selectman on the task force but he did not want to remove a member from the task force.

trucks were parking on the street and that some were carrying corrosive and combustible materials.

Joubert also said that residents were concerned with their wells and were originally promised that water and sewerage would be put in. "This is a private street. We thought we owned it," he said. "We should have some say what goes up and down our street. Apparently they think it's their street, not all of ours."

Bill Moore said he had visited the site on several occasions on weekdays and Sundays, up to 10:00 p.m.. He said he couldn't verify anything that's been said about the operation. He also discounted Joubert's statement that there was a loading dock there. "Let's stick to why we are here," Moore said. "We are to make a decision as to whether it is a trucking terminal or a wholesale distribution center."

Janet Martin and Noreen Joubert of Wales Street, and a Mrs. Bouley of Park Hill Avenue, spoke of the noise, smell and odors from the trucks and the resulting effect on their inability to sleep. Saying their rights were being violated, they asked the board to take some action.

Terry Burke Dotson, who is a member of the Planning Board, addressed the ZBA as a private citizen. She said there is a zoning violation in that the variance granted allowed for only 10 parking spaces while there are 30-52 trucks parking there. She said a special permit would be required for parking that many vehicles.

Keenan said his client was not applying for a variance tonight but was applying for a review of an interpretation made by the building inspector and zoning administrator. He then referenced a report that stated that a consultant and expert, Robert Wentzel, has verified that the Majestic Intestate Carrier operation does not operate as a freight or truck terminal. Keenan asked that the building inspector be found wrong in his interpretation and that his client be found in the right.

Keenan also said that Fantasia has tried to appease residents and has placed signs on Wales Street for the trucks to proceed slowly. He did say Joubert was right about there being two loading platforms, but maintained that only a 600 square foot area inside the building was used by Majestic for storage of damaged freight and empty pallets. "No freight is taken inside and broken down. The platforms were there when the building was built," Keenan said.

Hulseberg reminded the board that four members would have to vote that the interpretation and orders of the building inspector were wrong in order to uphold Fantasia's appeal. "If two of you feel strongly that the building inspector was right, I urge you to vote against this application," he said.

Following the close of the public hearing, board members deliberated for a short time prior to taking a vote. Moore and Martin spoke in favor of granting the appeal as they considered the operation by Majestic Interstate to be a wholesale distribution center. Moore suggested that the board delay a decision until all members had a chance to visit a freight terminal and a wholesale terminal to see the difference between the m.

Valentino and Hennigan said they didn't need to visit either to make a determination as they considered the operation to be a freight terminal. Walter Bernier said the issue was a gray area.

Moore made a motion to support Fantasia's appeal. Martin seconded the motion. Valentino and Hennigan voted against the appeal for a revocation of the building inspector's cease and desist order. Bernier said he was going to abstain because it was a gray area. The vote being 2-2, Fantasia's appeal was defeated and the cease and desist order on operations by Majestic prevails.

Strieby entered the debate asking, "People appointed from any board to represent the board, if they leave that board, wouldn't they automatically leave that position?"

Connor said she saw no point in removing anyone from the Task Force.

"You don't have to take him off, Mary," LaBonte said, "as long as that person understands that this will be the selectmen's representative."

She moved the amendment. Connor and Johnson voted in favor, Chizy, LaBonte and Strieby against.

Johnson then said, "Now your motion should read that we are replacing a member on the task force with a member of our present board."

"No," Strieby said, "I don't think it's replacing."

"That's exactly what it is," Johnson said.

Connor argued that the task force was loosely formed and said there is no reason why another member could not be added. "All in favor of the motion," she called. Chizy, LaBonte and Strieby voted in favor. Strieby was appointed the board's representative on the Power Plant Task Force.

Credit Hotline for Businesses

BOSTON - Senator John Houston (D-Worcester) has announced the availability of a "credit-crunch" hotline to match up businesses that are unfairly denied credit with banks willing to lend. The hotline number is 1-800-654-4460.

"Credit has dried up for many businesses that would normally be worthy of a loan," Houston said. "This hotline will get the two together."

Master Jaguar Technicians

MILLBURY - Chabot Motors employees John "Jack" Deeter and Ray Emery received "Master Jaguar Technician" awards on May 24 from Jaguar Service representative Denys Cousens. Deeter and Emery are members of the "Certified Technician Guild."

In presenting the awards, Cousens explained that in Jaguar's New England Zone, which comprises New York, Connecticut, Rhode Island, Massachusetts, Maine, New Hampshire and Vermont, there are 50 Jaguar technicians and only five have achieved the designation of "Master Technician." Deeter and Emery can now qualify for a trip to England by preparing a written survey of how to improve the Jaguar.
